Verizon Home Voice Mail

Easy steps to get you started

www.verizon.com

Before using Home Voice Mail for the first time ...

Take a few minutes to get set up. Follow the steps below and listen carefully to the recorded instructions. If you need assistance, just call 1-800-523-0559 during normal business hours and someone will help you.

1. Review the Limitations of Liability and Terms and Conditions for Home Voice Mail found at the end of this guide. During the set up process, you will be asked to indicate that you have reviewed this before you can proceed with setting up your mailbox.
2. Dial the Verizon Home Voice Mail system number. Wait for the system to answer.
3. Depending on where you are at home
 - Enter your starter password.
 - Press #. Now go to Step 4.- or - away from home
 - Press **#
 - Enter your mailbox number, which is the same as your home telephone number.
 - Enter your starter password.
 - Press #. Now go to Step 4.

4. To indicate that you have read and agree with the Limitations of Liability and Terms and Conditions, press 1.
5. Listen carefully to the recorded instructions. They will guide you through setting up your mailbox — the place where your messages, greetings and password are stored and where all Home Voice Mail activities take place.

You will:

- Create your own 4- to 10-digit password.
- Record the greeting your callers will hear.
- Record a busy greeting* that your callers will hear when your line is busy.

If you do not record a busy greeting, callers will always hear your regular greeting.

Busy greeting is available only where facilities exist.*

- Record your name as a label for your mailbox.
- For Multiple Mailbox, there are a few additional steps required to set up this feature. Please refer to “How To Set Up the Multiple Mailbox” section of this guide.

Using Home Voice Mail

Now that you have set up your Home Voice Mail mailbox, you're ready to learn how easy it is to use this service. Use this booklet as a guide to follow the simple voice instructions that tell you what choices you have at each step.

- Your Access Number is the phone number you dial to reach Verizon Home Voice Mail each time you want to retrieve your messages or make any changes after setting up your Home Voice Mail service.
- Your Access Number is located on your cover letter.
- Write your Access Number here so you can find it easily.

Access Number:

Useful Definitions

Home Voice Mail - A Verizon Voice Messaging Service

Mailbox Number - Your home telephone number or the telephone number that has Home Voice Mail

Password - A personal identification number that you create to access your Home Voice Mail mailbox (You can change your password as often as you like.)

Greeting - The announcement you record in your own words for your callers to hear, or the standard announcement provided by the system, if you choose

Main Menu - The list of options you choose from once you've dialed into the Home Voice Mail service

Special Keys - Now and then, the voice prompts will ask you to press  or # located on the bottom row of your telephone keypad

How To Retrieve Messages

You can only retrieve messages from a Touch-Tone telephone.

From Your Home:

If you have messages, you will hear an interrupted dial tone when you pick up the receiver.

- Dial your access number.
- Enter your password when prompted.

You will then hear how many messages you have, as well as the Main Menu options.

- To listen to your messages, press 1.

From Outside Your Home:

- Dial your access number (with area code if necessary).
- Press # when your call is answered.
- Enter your mailbox number (your telephone number equipped with Home Voice Mail, starting with the area code).
- Enter your password when prompted.

You will then hear how many messages you have, as well as the Main Menu options.

- To listen to your messages, press 1.

From Another Home Voice Mail Subscriber's Phone with the Same Access Number:

Retrieving messages from another Home Voice Mail subscriber's phone with the same access number is the same as retrieving messages from outside your home (as described above).

What You Can Do with Messages

Each message you retrieve is marked with the day and time it was received. For example, your message will be marked: "Received Monday, June 22, at 1:23 p.m." You will then hear the recorded message. You will hear new messages first, if you have any, followed by saved messages.

While listening to your messages you have the following options:

After you hear each message, you will have the following three options:

- To replay a message, press 1.
- To save a message, press 2.
- To erase a message, press 3.

Note: You must save, erase or skip each message before you can listen to the next one.

Your mailbox can hold up to 30 messages that can be up to two minutes in length. This includes new messages from incoming callers and any saved messages. When the mailbox reaches this limit, callers will hear that the mailbox is full and is not accepting any new messages. Then, in order to receive any new messages, you will need to erase some of your messages.

Personal Options

From the Personal Options Menu you can change your password, greetings or name. You can reach the Personal Options Menu by pressing 3 at the Main Menu.

How To Change Your Password:

You can change your password as often as you like. Choose a password that's easy for you to remember and hard for others to guess. It can be a word or number four to 10 digits long. It cannot be your telephone number, one digit repeated (for example, 44444), or a sequence of digits (for example, 12345). Memorize your password or write it down. If you ever forget your password, call a Product Support Line Representative.

- To reach the Personal Options Menu, press 3 at the Main Menu.
- To hear your current password, press 2.

You will then have two choices:

- To keep your current password, press 1.
- To change your current password, press 2.

How To Change Your Greetings:

You can easily change the greeting that people hear when they call and you are not available. You can also change your busy greeting.* Remember, if you choose not to record a busy greeting, your callers will always hear your regular greeting. For both regular and busy greetings, you can choose to have the service play the standard greeting if you don't want to record a greeting in your own voice.

The pre-recorded standard regular greeting is:

"The person you called (recorded name or mailbox number) is not available right now. Please leave your message at the tone."

The pre-recorded standard busy greeting is:

"The person you called (recorded name or mailbox number) is on the phone right now. Please leave your message at the tone."

To reach the Personal Options Menu, press 3 at the Main Menu.

- To reach the Greeting/Name menu, press 1.
- To change your Greeting, press 1.

You will then have two choices:

- To change your regular greeting, press 1.
- To change your busy greeting,* press 2.

With either choice, your current greeting will be played:

- To keep your current greeting, press 1.
- To change your current greeting, press 2. When you are finished recording, press **#.
- To select the standard greeting, press 3.

When you choose to use the standard regular greeting or the standard busy greeting, the service will automatically play your recorded name or mailbox number to identify your mailbox to callers.

* Busy greeting is available only where facilities exist.

How To Change Your Recorded Name or Select Your Mailbox Number:

- To reach the Personal Options Menu, press 3 at the Main Menu.
- To hear the Greeting/Name menu, press 1.
- To hear your name or mailbox number, press 2.

You will then have three choices:

- To keep your current recorded name or mailbox number, press 1.
- To record a new name, press 2. When you are finished recording, press **#.
- To use your mailbox number in place of your name, press 3.

Multiple Mailbox

Multiple Mailbox is great for families with teenagers, for households with roommates and for people who work at/from their home. With Multiple Mailbox, up to eight additional members of your household can receive private messages in their own personal mailbox.

Each household member has his/her own password and greeting. There's no wading through other people's messages to get to yours. Even better, your messages are kept private for you until you are ready to review them. The Multiple Mailbox feature can be added to your existing Home Voice Mail service.

The "host" is the person who sets up the Multiple Mailbox and records the initial greeting.

Individuals with a Multiple Mailbox will want to call the Access Number periodically to check for messages. The Multiple Mailbox can hold up to 50 messages up to two minutes in length. This includes new messages in all the individual mailboxes from incoming callers, as well as any saved messages.

How Multiple Mailbox Works:

When no one is available to answer your phone, callers will hear your Home Voice Mail mailbox greeting first, such as "Hello, you've reached the Smith residence." Voice instructions will then explain how the caller can access the mailbox of the person he/she is trying to reach. Callers will hear the household member's name and the number for his/her specific mailbox extension.

For example:

"If you want Jim, press 1; if you want Bill press 2; if you want Mary, press 3; if you want John (host), leave your message after the tone."

Once a caller chooses a mailbox extension number (1, 2, 3, etc.), he/she will then hear the individual greeting for that mailbox. The message the caller leaves is private for that mailbox owner and can be retrieved only by that owner with his/her password. If the caller does not choose a mailbox extension number, the message will automatically be placed in the host mailbox.

If you do not already subscribe to the Multiple Mailbox feature and would like additional information, please call your local business office.

How To Set Up the Multiple Mailbox:

If you are a Multiple Mailbox subscriber, there are a few additional steps you need to follow. Once you have set up your Home Voice Mail mailbox, you're ready to set up from one to eight* individual mailboxes so callers can leave private messages for different members of your household.

Sample Individual Greeting:

1. "Hi, this is Jim. Please leave a message for me after the tone."
2. "Hi, I can't get to the phone right now. Please leave a message after the beep."
3. "Hi, this is Mary, I'm not home so leave me a message. Thanks."

* Eight additional mailboxes available where facilities exist, three elsewhere.

A Suggestion for Easy Set-Up:

Have one member of your household follow the voice instructions for setting up all the mailboxes and then have that person help the other household members change their passwords (for privacy) and record their names and individual greetings in their own voices, at their own convenience.

How To Set Up Your Multiple Mailbox when Household Members Are not Present:

- Dial your Access Number.
- Enter your password when prompted.
- To reach the Personal Options Menu, press 3 at the Main Menu.
- To set up a Multiple Mailbox, press 3 again.
- Dial the mailbox extension number (1, 2, 3, etc.) you wish to set up.

A temporary password is automatically assigned for this Multiple Mailbox extension. Listen to the temporary password.

- To keep it, press 1.
- To change it, press 2.

Be sure to write the password down so you'll be able to pass it on to the appropriate household member.

- Follow the simple voice instructions to record the Multiple Mailbox extension name and individual greeting.

Sample Individual Greeting: "Hi, this is (name). Please leave a message for me after the tone."

- Repeat the above steps for each Multiple Mailbox extension.

After you've set up your Multiple Mailbox, you need to change the greeting that you recorded at the time you set up your mailbox using the instructions in the section "Before using Home Voice Mail for the first time." Refer to the "How To Change Your Greetings" section on page 6 for instructions on how to record a new greeting.

Sample Greeting: "Thank you for calling. You've reached the (name) residence."

To Set Up Your Multiple Mailbox with Household Members Present:

Follow the instructions outlined in the left-hand column on this page but allow each household member to set up his/her individual mailbox himself/herself by following the Multiple Mailbox voice instructions.

How To Erase a Multiple Mailbox:

You, the host, have the option to erase a Multiple Mailbox extension. When you erase a mailbox extension, you erase all messages, the password, recorded name and greeting for that mailbox. Once erased, that particular mailbox and its contents are gone.

- To reach the Personal Options Menu, press 3 at the Main Menu.
- To indicate you want to erase a mailbox extension, press 3 again.
- Enter the mailbox extension number you wish to erase (1, 2, 3, etc.).

The voice instructions will tell you that the Multiple Mailbox extension already exists.

- To erase the mailbox extension, press 1.
- To cancel the request, press *****.
- To erase another mailbox, choose another mailbox extension number. If not, just press *****.

Frequently Asked Questions

What if I Get Stuck?

Don't worry, if you don't know which buttons to press, you can always press 0 for more information. If you need further assistance, call the Product Support Line number shown on the back of this guide.

What Exactly Is My Mailbox? What Is My Mailbox Number?

Your mailbox is where your messages are stored within Home Voice Mail. Your mailbox number is the same as your home phone number.

How Many Messages Can My Mailbox Hold and for How Long?

Your Home Voice Mail mailbox can hold from seven to 50 messages that can be from one to two minutes in length, depending on the type of service you have. Home Voice Mail keeps messages for seven to 30 days depending on your service type.

How Will I Know if I Have New Messages?

If you have new messages, you will hear an interrupted dial tone when you pick up your telephone receiver. You can use your telephone for making calls even while you hear the interrupted dial tone.

How Quickly Does Home Voice Mail Pick Up My Calls?

When you signed up for the service, you selected your "ring cycle;" that is, the range of rings heard before Home Voice Mail answers your calls.

Do I Have to Listen to all the Voice Prompts Before Selecting an Option?

No, you don't have to wait for the recorded voice to start or finish if you already know your choice. You can select your desired option before the voice prompt is completed.

Do My Callers Have to Listen to My Entire Greeting before Leaving a Message?

No, your callers may press # at any time during the greeting to skip to the tone. If you subscribe to the Multiple Mailbox feature, when your callers press #, they will go directly to the host mailbox.

What Happens If a Caller Hangs Up without Leaving a Message?

If the caller hangs up before your greeting finishes playing, Home Voice Mail will not record the "hang-up."

Can I Leave a Reminder Message in My Own Mailbox if I'm at Home?

Dial your Access Number. When the service answers and asks you for your password, press  * . This will bring you back to the general Verizon Voice Messaging Service greeting. When prompted, enter your seven-digit mailbox number to hear your greeting. Leave your message at the tone.

Compatibility with Other Verizon Services

How Does Home Voice Mail Work with Call Waiting?

When you hear the Call Waiting tone, answer the second call using the Call Waiting feature. If you choose to ignore the call waiting tone, the call will be answered by Home Voice Mail. When you cancel Call Waiting (by pressing  7 0, the Selective Call Waiting feature) and your Home Voice Mail is pre-programmed by Verizon to forward when your line is busy, your calls will be answered by Home Voice Mail.

How Does Home Voice Mail Work with Call Forwarding?

When you program Call Forwarding to your Access Number, your calls will be answered by Home Voice Mail. When you program Call Forwarding to any other number, your calls will ring into that number and are not answered by Home Voice Mail.

How Does Home Voice Mail Work with Distinctive Ring?

Calls to the Distinctive Ring number(s) are answered in the same manner as calls to the main number when the Distinctive Ring number(s) have been preprogrammed by Verizon to forward to Home Voice Mail.

Home Voice Mail Optional Features

The following features are available to enhance your Home Voice Mail service.

Messaging

With Messaging, you can send a message directly to other Home Voice Mail subscribers, without ringing their telephone, and they can record a reply. Delivery Options allow you to mark your message urgent, private, for future delivery, or confirmed delivery. Future delivery allows you to record a message to be delivered up to 30 days into the future. With confirmed delivery, you receive a return receipt so you know they got the message.

You can easily send many people the same message, you can send a message to yourself, or to one of the members of your household, and you can reply to messages received from another Home Voice Mail subscriber. A per use charge of 10¢* applies for each message and mailbox destination.

Helpful Hints

- There is no need to wait until the end of a voice prompt. Once a prompt starts you can enter a selection at any time.
- Pager numbers must be within your local calling area or be a toll-free number.

Limitations of Liability

The Telephone Company will make every reasonable attempt to maintain reliable and continuous service, however, there may be some system downtime, e.g., maintenance reasons. The Telephone Company will not be liable for any claimed damage from such downtime. The Telephone Company's liability, if any, for its gross negligence or willful misconduct is not limited by these Limitations of Liability. With respect to any other claim or suit, by a customer or by any others, for damages associated with the installation, provision, termination, maintenance, repair or restoration of service, the Telephone Company's liability, if any, shall not exceed an amount equal to the proportionate charge for the period during which the service was affected. The Telephone Company is not responsible for any other claimed damage, e.g., lost messages or service interruptions, under any theory of liability whatsoever. The Telephone Company extends no warranty, express or implied, for the service.

Terms and Conditions

Usage charges for Measured Rate customers are not included in the monthly charge. The service may be canceled at any time. If the service is disconnected prior to the end of the first month, a one-month minimum charge will apply. The service may be terminated for failure to pay in a timely fashion.

There may be a charge to replace lost passwords. Individual messages are kept for up to 30 days. The service will hold a number of messages based on the type of Home Voice Mail service to which you subscribe. Once this limit is reached, the mailbox will not accept any new messages. Each message can be a maximum of two minutes in length.

How Home Voice Mail Interacts with Your Local Measured Service

Local Measured Service charging applies to Home Voice Mail service. This includes each time a call is forwarded to your mailbox and each time you access the Verizon Voice Messaging System and perform any of the available functions. Your total end of month local usage charges depend on the Measured Service option you have.

Messaging, Call Wake Up, Call Reminder, and Pager Notification Terms and Conditions

If a Call Wake Up, Call Reminder or Messaging delivery failure occurs, the service will retry according to the predetermined retry schedule.

Once the retry schedule is completed, no further attempts for delivery will be made.

Unlawful, fraudulent or abusive use of these services may result in the discontinuance of Home Voice Mail.

Depending on your type of basic telephone service, you may be charged for calls to set up these services.

Call delivery is limited to numbers within your Verizon calling area.
